ABSTRACT

Prepared by teachers, school librarians, and subject authorities, this bibliography is the second supplement to an earlier publication. It includes materials for the teaching of Iowa history, tradition, and literature in elementary and secondary schools. Divided into two sections, the first lists materials on Iowa history according to Dewey classification. Entries include author, title, bibliographic information, interest and reading levels, availability, cataloging information, and an annotation. Section two lists works by Iowa authors, not necessarily about Iowa, which contribute to the study of Iowa literature. These entries are alphabetic by author and include title, bibliographic information, Dewey classification number, dates of author's birth and death, reading and interest levels, availability, and an annotation. Out-of-print materials judged to be of sufficient interest are included in both sections. Author, title, and subject indexes are also provided, as is a directory of publishers. (ESR)

PREFACE

The second edition of Iowa and Some Iowans, subtitled, "A Bibliography of Iowa History and Iowa Authors for Elementary and Secondary School Students, Teachers and Library Media Specialists" was published by the Iowa Department of Public Instruction in 1974. Based on an initial publication prepared by the Iowa Association of School Librarians and published by the Department, the second edition was prepared with the assistance of the Iowa Educational Media Association (successor to the Iowa Association of School Librarians). Mary Lou McGrew of the University of Northern Iowa Library Science Department chaired the Iowa Author subcommittee and edited that portion of the publication. Betty Jo Buckingham of the Department, chaired the Iowa History subcommittee and served as general editor.

The first Supplement, published in 1974, also was done by mail, this time with no formal committee structure. Many school library media specialists, librarians, and teachers, contributed to this compilation. The library staffs of three special collections dealing with Iowa literature and history - the State Historical Society of Iowa, the Special Collections Department of the University of Iowa, and the State Historical Library, gave valuable assistance.

The 1982 Supplement has continued in the same pattern as the first Supplement. Contributions were requested through Growth Notes for School Media Specialists, a newsletter published by the Iowa Department of Public Instruction, and by a direct mailing to previous contributors and other interested persons and agencies. The Iowa State Historical Department, Division of the State Historical Society has again been especially helpful. Margaret Atherton Bonney, Goldfinch Editor, Karen Laughlin, Library Associate and Alan M. Schroder, Editor, from the Society staff have made a profound contribution to this publication. Shirley Shisler of the Des Moines Public Library and Lucille Lettow of the Youth Collection of the University of Northern Iowa Library were also of considerable assistance. A more complete list of contributors follows the preface.

The publication "Children's Books by Iowa Writers" by Rebecca Olafsen and Connie O'Sullivan published by the Department as a product of a 1979-80 Teacher Incentive Award, also provided guidance, particularly for the author section.

The assistance of Eleanor Blanks in organizing and editing the materials, of Lydia Thomas, Department Librarian, and of the State Library staff in lending time, books and the library's OCLC terminal is gratefully acknowledged.

The following criteria were established for the inclusion of a work or an author in the Second Edition. This Supplement attempts to follow the same criteria, with two exceptions. The scope is broadened somewhat to acknowledge the contribution of and distributions to other libraries. Few evaluative comments were available in time for publication.

Iowa History

1. The audience is elementary and secondary school students and their teachers. The basic subject served will be Iowa History.
2. County and local historical materials will be omitted unless they have a direct bearing on the general history of the state, and are likely to be widely available.
3. Out-of-print materials will be included if they are likely to be considered sufficiently valuable or are widely available.
4. Materials may be included regardless of quality or historical accuracy but the evaluative comment should point out these weaknesses. This may help local schools weed their present collections or use individual titles more carefully.
5. Both print and non print materials will be included but periodical articles will not be included.

In addition it should be noted that ephemeral material from units of state government were generally omitted.

Iowa Authors

1. The author was born in Iowa or is presently an Iowa resident.
2. Novels, short stories, poetry, plays and essays are appropriate literary forms to consider. They need not necessarily be about Iowa.
3. Materials should be suitable for elementary and secondary school students to explore in the context "Iowa literature."
4. Materials may also be recommended for classroom collections or school library media centers at the appropriate level.
5. Both print and image/sound media in various formats may be included.
6. The major portion of the Bibliography should consist of works in print. Out-of-print materials may be included if considered valuable and/or are widely available.
7. Items may be included though there are perceptible weaknesses in literary quality. The annotation should indicate weaknesses in an evaluative comment.

It is hoped that all users will send comments on strengths, weaknesses, omissions and new materials to Betty Jo Buckingham, State Department of Public Instruction, Grimes State Office Building, Des Moines, Iowa 50319. (515) 281-3707.

IOWA HISTORY

Main entries are in classed order. Most items were in print or available spring 1982. Interest level (I. L.) and reading level (R. L.) are indicated when available. The subjects used in the subject index are listed with the entries for the users' convenience. While some cataloging information is provided, no attempt was made to provide the full entry or follow Anglo American cataloging rules since this is a bibliography not a catalog.

The scope of the Iowa History Section has been broadened to include materials relating to Iowa pertinent for all areas of the curriculum except for literature which continues to be listed in the Iowa Author Section.
